

REACTION PAPERS CHECKLIST

Heading

- Your Name
- Antonio Estrada, PhD
- TA: Joel Saldana
- MAS 150B1 Section [E/G]
- 11 September 2017

Introduction

- First/Introductory Sentence: What is the name of the film and who is the director? What is the overall or broader theme/message of the film?
- Short Summary/Commentary/Background: You can do one of two things for this part:
 - 1) What happened in the film that YOU found interesting? Explain. OR
 - 2) Provide background information for your thesis statement (from the film; you may also use an outside source if you would like to provide statistics, etc.).
- Clear Thesis Statement: What is this Reaction Paper going to focus on? Be clear! Vague/ambiguous statements will not suffice. BOLD YOUR THESIS STATEMENT.

Body Paragraph(s)

- Clear Topic Sentence: What is this paragraph about? What theme or idea have you chosen to analyze? (Must be related to your thesis; focus on only ONE theme per paragraph)
- Claims/Arguments: What is your argument/position for (or against) an idea or theme presented in the film? Please explain. (This may be a part of your topic sentence)
- Critical Analysis: This means that you look at the important aspects of the theme/topic of your choice (i.e. critique ideas; provided support; state the implications; ex: how women were treated during the HIV/AIDS epidemic in Sex in an Epidemic). Why should I as a reader care about this topic?
- Social/Cultural/Historical Context: Look at the historical, cultural, social, and/or political implications of the theme you are analyzing. (Ex: the implications of abstinence-only sex education vs. comprehensive sexual education in regards to HIV/AIDS).
- Sources: Support your arguments/claims/position AND make it relevant; i.e., not a stand-alone quote that does not add credibility to your argument. (Ex: provide statistics that support your claim OR/AND examples that are relevant to your topic/theme. Make sure to also comment on or explain the relevance of examples/statistics provided).

Conclusion

- Significance/Importance: Why is this topic/theme important to society? To this class? To you, personally? OPTIONAL: Provide a "Call to Action" (how do we handle this issue?).
- Contemporary Example: Can you think of a relevant example? Please explain and relate to the Significance/Importance or to your analysis. (Ex: for Middle Sexes, you could mention the Orlando Shootings, "Gay Marriage," Military Don't Ask Don't Tell, etc.)
 - NOTE: Cite your sources if you are utilizing a non-personal example (such as the ones mentioned above) and specially if you are using specific details.

Works Cited

- Source #1: Proper MLA citation for the FILM (REQUIRED for Formatting)
- Source #2: Proper MLA citation for a class lecture, article, outside sources, etc.

Other

- 300-500 words (not including heading or Works Cited sections)
- In-Text Citations where appropriate (avoid plagiarism)